Like everyone else, I'm having problems coming to terms with the fact that Easter is almost here and it's 'late' this year! So here's goodbye to the first quarter of 2017.

The layout of these pages has completed the change begun last month: basically we now have contacts, parish councils and church pages first, followed by notices, and then events towards the end, finishing with the diary on the back page. It seems to make more logical sense.

Again, I apologise to anyone whose submission has had to be cut down - there just simply isn't the space to include everything.... although I sincerely hope nothing has been missed out completely.

Please may I have all news for May by Wednesday, 19th April

Overgrown Hedges

The Council reminds residents it is their responsibility to keep hedges trimmed, particularly where the boundary meets a public footpath. There have been incidents reported where public footpaths have become overgrown, and a danger to pedestrians, particularly on Main Street, Eaton. It would be appreciated if residents would check their hedges, bushes etc., and cut back as required.

CHURCH OF ENGLANDwww.ironstonechurches.comJoining the Dawn Chorus?

Dear Reader of the Village News,

Are you a lark, someone who likes to be up to greet the dawn? Or are you more of an owl, someone who wakes up in the evening? Or maybe a bit of both? My wife Mary is more of an owl and I am more of a lark (alas, not in terms of my singing ability!), so we have to do some negotiating about our bedtime, as well as when the morning alarm rings!

During our time in Malvern, every year I have joined other early birds for a special gathering on Easter Day. Up to about a hundred of us from many different churches have climbed up various paths around Malvern to meet by the Worcestershire Beacon, the highest point of the Malvern Hills. There we have faced east and greeted the dawning light of Easter Day with the Easter acclamation: 'Alleluia! Christ is risen. He is risen indeed. Alleluia!'

Each year, the weather conditions for Easter Sunrise Service have been very different.

Sometimes we have seen a glorious sunrise starting to appear over the Cotswold Hills to the east.

Other years, we have been shrouded in thick cloud or mist, and hardly able to see anything at all.

Sometimes it has been mild and still, and I have been able to hear the beautiful sound of larks greeting the dawn.

At other times, it has been wet and windy or freezing cold - some of the photos taken have even shown snow on the hills around us!

Yet, whatever the weather conditions, whether or not we could see the sun rising, Easter Day has still dawned.

In a world often shrouded in the darkness of suffering and sorrow, the Easter message is one that can give hope to all. For through the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ, the power of sin and death has been overcome. Whatever our present circumstances, whatever struggles you and I may have to face, the God-given fact of Easter assures us that a new day has dawned, and the light of God's Kingdom on earth has begun to shine.

This Easter Day (16th April), just after 6.00 am, I shall think of you as I face east and look beyond Worcester towards Leicestershire.

And Mary and I are looking forward to coming to live among you soon afterwards.

With all good wishes,

(John Barr)

Scalford Methodist Church

Dear Friends,

The media is frequently dominated by sad news. Over recent weeks we have had news from the Middle East where people, including young children, have been killed and injured as a result of war. We have also heard about the suffering caused by drought and storm - the appeal this week by the Disasters Emergencies Committee for the famine in several African countries has brought home the scale of some of the suffering present in the world now.

How should the Christian respond?

For me, one of the most helpful passages in the Bible is Jesus' sermon in the synagogue at Nazareth, where he read and preached on words from the prophet Isaiah (Luke 4: 14). Jesus identified himself as the bringer of good news to the poor; the liberator of the captives; the person who bound up the broken hearted; the bringer of joy to the sorrowful.

These are values, which Christ's followers, too, are called to live. We can begin in our home communities where there are many sad and lonely people who need our love. Further afield the ways in which we can respond individually are more limited, but we can give from our own resources and through our prayers. The important thing is that we stand beside those who are suffering and do respond.

Christians are also called to face injustice and cruelty head-on as Jesus did. For those following his way it may lead, as it did for Jesus, to suffering, even death. We live in a world where human self-interest is still a powerful force which needs to be confronted daily with the power of God's love. However, we do not embark on this task in our own strength, but in the light of our Easter faith which shows how God, through Jesus, has defeated the powers of selfishness, wickedness and hate. This is the supreme message we can take to the world together with practical help.

I conclude with the final verse (verse 5) of an updated version of Brian Wren's hymn 'Christ is alive, let Christians sing'.

Christ is alive and comes to bring
 Good news to this and every age,
 Till earth and sky and ocean ring
 With joy, with justice, love and praise.

With best wishes,

© Stainer and Bell

James

DOG POO, SCALFORD

From a Scalford farmer (copied to Scalford Parish Council):

We have a farm at Scalford over which there are several public footpaths which are well used by dog owners, the majority of whom take care to supervise their animals and abide by the country code of practice to clear up their dog's poo.

However, this is being spoilt by a minority who do absolutely nothing. In half an hour recently we filled a bucket (not a pleasant job).

In the summer our cattle graze the fields; if they ingest dog excrement it can cause a disease resulting in breeding animals aborting their calves. There are a number of footpath users who don't have dogs and they too must find the poo repellent.

Therefore, would the people responsible for failing to clear up their dog's mess please ensure in the future they not only pick it up, but remove it completely. It is no good adorning the hedges with filled bags.

We hope this leads to an improvement in this dire situation.

SCALFORD JUMBLE

A BIG thank to all who donated and helped in any way collecting, sorting, making cakes, selling, putting up tables, clear up, whatever. All efforts are greatly appreciated, and helped contribute to the total raised - £800.58 towards Chapel and Church funds.

THANK YOU.

SCALFORD SPEEDWATCH SCHEME

Thank you to everyone who has volunteered to take part in the Scalford Speedwatch scheme. For anyone who doesn't know, this is a joint initiative between residents, the county council and the police to try to slow down speeding drivers in the village.

The council will be giving us a speed gun to monitor traffic for two weeks during May. The next training session for residents will take place in the King's Arms pub on Wednesday, 12th April at 6.30 pm.

We hope to see as many of you there as possible. Training to use the speed gun does not commit you to taking part in the scheme, but the more of us who are trained, the more chance we have of persuading drivers to slow down.

Any questions, please contact Jenny Harby on 07946 389103.

Wednesday, 12th April at 7.30 pm

The Cold War period officially ended in 1991. For 44 years Western Governments were on alert and prepared for the worst. Our presentation last year from Vulcan to the Sky Trust set the scene and our speakers on this occasion will bring home the realities of the Cold War with an interactive presentation and the opportunity to see and hear about the realities of preparation and how they affected ordinary people.

Come and join the meeting and find out for yourself what was going on just three decades ago.

Entrance £3. No charge to Eastwell History Group members and full time students.
