The new advertisements appear this month: as these fill the centre pages, the 'useful telephone numbers' have been amalgamated with the 'contact numbers' (with the advantage that both can be altered monthly) and moved to the back page. Also the calendar/meetings/special events have been condensed under two headings to save space.

Thanks again to Brian Hollingshead for the use of his drawings of Leicestershire churches. Last month's was Barkby, which—not surprisingly—no-one guessed; this month is a small village church situated to the east of Melton Mowbray.

PARISH READING GROUP

We discussed North and South by Elizabeth Gaskell. This was a very popular book. We felt it was well written and, as may be guessed by the title, was a social history comparing the differences in class and working environments between the north and south of England circa 1850. The northern town was based on Manchester and we are brought into the lives of the mill owner and some of the workers to witness their reactions during a strike.

The only complaint was the very neat and tidy ending! We awarded it 4 out of 5 possible stars.

The Parish Reading group meets at Goadby Marwood Village Hall: please feel free to come along to our next meeting when we will be discussing Quartet in Autumn by Barbara Pym, please contact Colette on 01664 464823 to confirm the date of this meeting.
