Many apologies for the lateness of this month's yellow pages - I just didn't manage to get them off to the printers before the bank holiday. Again, there has not been space to include the 'Useful Telephone Numbers': as they have had to be omitted so many times recently, it is likely that they will be moved to the first of the white advertising pages, so if any additions or corrections need to be made, please let me know fairly soon.

All of which brings us to a last call for any advertisements for the white pages, as they are being prepared for printing this month - last chance for a year!

Please may I have all news for October by

Eastwell Fete
2016

The PCC of St Michael & All Angels are indebted to everyone who contributed to what turned out to be a very happy event on such damp, windy, day. Both Damian, the magician, and Paul, the bagpipe and mediaeval instrument player, commented on how happy, friendly and helpful everyone was.

The weather forecasts (although extremely varied as usual) were screaming out stormy, wet, windy - anything but fine and sunny - and stalls cancelled or simply didn't turn up, but, disregarding the weather, it turned out to be a brilliant few hours. The profit for the church stands at an amazing £3,376.22.

So many, many thanks to everyone who kept a smile on their face and made it such a happy day.

You will be warmly welcome at any of these services. See local notices for more details.

The Harvest Suppers will take a Songs of Praise format featuring well-loved harvest hymns and readings. All will have a social time to follow. Bring a bit of money for our charity auctions/sales of produce. If you want to decorate your church, then please contact your churchwardens (see our web page www.ironstonechurches.com). If you cannot get to your own village harvest festival, then please choose one of the others - it is, after all, a very special time of year!

There has been little demand in Eastwell over the past few years for a harvest festival service, and services have been poorly attended. It has therefore been decided not to have a service this year, but to organise harvest celebrations jointly with the Village Hall next year.
